Saturday or announced engagements.

Chris Noel, the leggy disk jockey who visited Vietnam as the U. S. answer to Hanoi Hand, married Capt. Ty Herrington, a Green Beret officer who proposed in a helicopter. Chris, who has a twice-weekly show on Armed Forces Radio, is known in Vietnam for her miniskirt. But she wore a long white gown for her wedding in Palm Beach, Fla.

Another Vietnam "veteran" figured prominently in a wedding — as the father of the bride. Comedian Bob Hope, who has entertained the troops overseas for many years, escorted his daughter Linda, 28, down the aisle in North Hollywood as she was married to Nathaniel G. Lande, 34, a movie director.

A soldier from Vietnam whose gallantly decorated love letters drew the attention of postal employes was married in Saddle Brook, N.J. Among the guests were several clerks. They represented postal employes who became concerned when the letters stopped coming and wrote to Marianne. They learned Gordon stopped writing when he was ordered home.

A hospital chapel was the setting for the wedding of Pueblo crewman Edward Russell and Sharon McCartney. Russell, who was supposed to marry Sharon Oct. 12, but who had to postpone the wedding because of his captivity in North Korea, is being kept in the U.S. Naval Hospital at San Diego for observation along with his fellow crewmen.

And a wedding to come — that of Jane Cameron, daughter of U.S. Sen. and Mrs. Philip A. Hart, to Peter S. Conserva of Devon, Pa. The daughter of the Michigan Democrat is a nursing student at Villanova. Conserva teaches in Philadelphia. The Harts announced the engagement and said an August wedding was planned.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The annual meeting of the Arkansas Federation of Water and Air Users will be held here next Sunday and Monday.

The federation was founded to inform the public about what is being done to maintain and improve the quality of water and air in the state.

States Rights in Welfare Are Ruled on

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the right of New York and other states to take over certain assets of people on welfare.

The issue, an important one in newly developing law on the poor and welfare programs, was disposed of in a brief, unsigned order. It noted that Justice William O. Douglas favored hearing the case.

The New York law gives local welfare departments the right to take over awards for personal injury and life insurance benefits as well as property. Salaries cannot be taken.

Thirty-one other states have such laws. New York's law was upheld by a court in New York City in a 2-1 ruling last March.

The Roger Baldwin Foundation of the American Civil Liberties Union brought the suit for a group of New Yorkers who received various forms of welfare.

The foundation claimed the regulations keep needy people from applying for help and dampen the ambitions of people already on welfare.

The foundation also argued that the Constitution's supremacy clause forbids the states to put restrictions on welfare programs enacted by Congress.

J. Lee Rankin, corporation counsel of the City of New York, said in reply that the appeal was trying to make welfare payments transferred into a fundamental constitutional right.

He said the regulations are not arbitrary, capricious or irrational.

U.S. Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold also urged the court to reject the appeal.

Powell Case to Get Full Court Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided today on a full-blown hearing on the appeal of Adam Clayton Powell from his ouster from the House of Representatives March 1, 1967.

The court removed the case from its summary calendar which limits each side to 30 minutes of argument. The action means it will be set down for argument later with each side having at least an hour.

Powell contends his ouster from the 90th congress was an "extraordinary, arbitrary and unconstitutional action."

A ruling in Powell's favor would mean that he would collect about $60,000 in back pay and regain his seniority. He was chairman of the House Labor Committee at the time he was ousted.

Powell was reelected to the House in a special election following his ouster, but never appeared to claim his seat during the 90th Congress.

He was reelected last November and was seated by the House under a compromise arrangement in which he was fined $25,000 for alleged misuse of public funds. Powell also is appealing from this fine.

ton address Tuesday was interpreted generally as signalling the failure of efforts to get Nixon to take a stand at this time on the surtax. Although the President-elect said during the campaign that the tax should be wiped out as soon as the Vietnam war ends, Johnson was reported to have hoped that Nixon wouldn't want to lose the $13 billion revenue it produces annually. The President, who wrung approval of the tax from a balky Congress with the argument that it was needed to combat inflation, also is reported by aides to believe that it is still needed as a check on the rising cost of living.

Johnson is represented as being determined to leave behind a nearly balanced budget. Nixon naturally will make some changes in it, but he would have difficulty altering the basic spending assumptions, a point he himself made last month in a meeting with congressional Republicans.

Lacking any commitment from Nixon, Johnson could adopt the course of recommending a continuance of the tax in some form as a price that he feels it might be necessary to keep expenditures and revenues close together.

Or he could say that the new administration would be court- ing a deficit if it let the tax expire on schedule June 30 and could give figures supporting this position.

Johnson was represented as being reluctant to make paper reductions in expenditures that he knows Congress won't allow. But he could take that route to avoid recommending an unpopular tax and giving Nixon the chance to say that the Democrats went out in a blaze of taxing and spending.

President and Mrs. Johnson are expected to fly to New York City late today to attend a private dinner at which they will be honor guests.

Explosion

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Windows at the municipal power plant were blown out here Sunday when an engine exploded.

Employees were in another portion of the building and none was hurt. The Conway Fire Department answered a call to the building but no fire resulted.

Asked why, she replied, "I'm married to a man."

Heavy Rains Fall Across the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains fell along the West Coast, heavy snow covered the Northwest and scattered snow and cold gripped the nation from the upper Midwest to the Northeast today.

But across the southern tier of states from Arizona and southern Nevada to the south Atlantic coast dry and milder weather prevailed.

Temperatures rose into the 70s Sunday along most of the Mexican border and in southern Florida. However, far to the north folks continued to shiver in winter's icy grip.

Temperatures around the country early today ranged from 16 below zero at Williston, N.D., to 65 at Key West, Fla.

Up to three inches of new snow fell at both Spokane and Yakima, Wash., Sunday and Portland, Ore., had an additional one inch.

Rain and high winds continued to rake the West Coast from California's Point St. George to Half Moon Bay with gale warnings out southward from Half Moon Bay to Point Sur.

Other temperatures and conditions around the nation: Boston 25 cloudy, New York 25 clear Philadelphia 21 partly cloudy, Washington 24 cloudy.

Durward Bourns was formally taken into the Hope Rotary Club as a new member on Friday at the club's weekly luncheon in the Town and Country. President Harold Eakley appointed committees for the Rotary Ladies Night, which will be held in February.

Ed Aslin was in charge of the program and introduced his son-in-law, Larry Chandler of Little Rock, an assistant in the State Attorney General's office. He told about the functions of that office and its staff. He said that the opinions handed down by the Attorney General's office are not law.

Members of the staff perform a variety of jobs in relation to the law, "declared the speaker, who cited a few particular types of cases as an example.

Questions and answers from those present concluded the program. In addition to the local club members, there were 3 visiting Rotarians, Howard McPherson and Harry Lee, both of Ohio, and Byron Thompson of Nashville.

The newly appointed secretary, Mrs. Lyle McMahon, read the minutes and called the roll. Committee chairmen gave reports, and there was a discussion of the report from the Projects committee.

For the monthly feature, "Here's How I," Mrs. Ned Ray Purdie explained how to use bare branches with 2 or 3 flowers in an arrangement. The president, Mrs. Crow, presented the program, "Services of Our Forestry," Mrs. Bob Turner and Mrs. Purdie brought arrangements of berries and branches which the club members studied and admired.

Cake and nuts, coffee and cold drinks were served for refreshments.

Mrs. Johnson Plans Month of Relaxation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lady Bird Johnson looks to the first few months after leaving the White House as a time to "lie in a hammock and look at the clouds and read."

Looking back over five years as First Lady, the 56-year-old wife of the President says she tried to live up to all the opportunities she had and "that does sort of wring you to an extent. Lord knows, it is worth everything. It is an irreplaceable jewel, these years have been."

But now she wants to "float and work at my own speed on whatever interests me and perhaps very little"—at least for a while.

As she prepared to leave Washington for Texas, Mrs. Johnson talked of her regrets, her hopes and happiest moments—and about some of her plans.

About the White House, she is sorry that "it was not more businesslike, cool, determined and self-confident about trying to get what I thought this house should have. I wanted a lot of the great Americans represented here on canvases on the walls."

As for herself, she said, there is a sad Cinderella feeling, "like turning into a pumpkin," over the prospect of a sharp dropoff in her mail. "I am sure it will decrease. The interest in me will decrease."

For the first six months she will avoid things that are demanding. After that, she said, she will "see if anybody remembers me" and whether people will still seek her help in the causes of beautification and conservation. These, she said, should be "at the top of the agenda for the nation's health and joy and abundant life."

Her "biggest challenger and biggest headache" ahead, she said, will be the choice of exhibits for the LBJ Library at the University of Texas. "I do of the interrelations between government and people of this country in the years that my husband has been part of the government."

Mrs. Johnson eventually will return to her office in the family's radio-television station in Austin, Tex., which she said has been "on ice" during the White House years when the Johnson holdings were placed under trusteeship.

Mrs. Johnson has been keeping a diary, for which publishers reportedly are bidding high prices. She said she won't do anything about selling the diary until after her husband leaves office.

The happiest moments of her life at the White House, Mrs. Johnson said, were the wedding manager of Sherwin-Williams.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bettel

STRETCH PATIENCE TOO FAR—AND IT SNAPS

Dear Helen: I have met the man I have always dreamed about. He isn't my husband.

Do you think if I go divorced and married this man, my ex-husband would take me back in case it didn't work out?—CHLOE

Dear Chloe: Not unless he has the patience of a turtle, and about as much brain.—H.

Dear Helen: Two years ago while my husband was in the Service, I became involved with another man. I was 25, and he was a very young 49. It was the most exciting thing that ever happened to me. He was sophisticated and also fun. We never really discussed being in love with each other.

My husband found out and divorced me. The affair was still going strong so I made sure the man's wife learned about it. He was furious at first, but things calmed down. When his divorce was final, we were married—and I ended up with the biggest lemon on earth!

I have luxuries I never dreamed of, but it makes me sick to my stomach to see my "old man" sleeping in his chair night after night.

Every trace of his so-called youth disappeared within two months of our wedding. I asked my doctor about my husband's behavior and he said it is normal. He told me any strange partner or any affair is very stimulating to a man. Even a 70-year-old can act like a youth, but they always revert to their age level.

Helen, I have been tricked and cheated. This man doesn't want a second divorce as it would really shatter his image. How about me?—TRAPPED "BIRD IN A GILDED CAGE"

Dear Trapped: How ABOUT you! When a woman tricks and cheats to get what she wants, she usually gets what's coming to her. How! "Fowl" to someone else, sweetie. From me, you get the bird!—H.

Dear Helen: I've been following the arguments about the double standard in your column. This fits in:

The debate at our "College of Complexes" was, "Should Women walk three paces behind?" Someone told of the regular ar' my sergeant who went back to Vietnam after an absence of a few years.

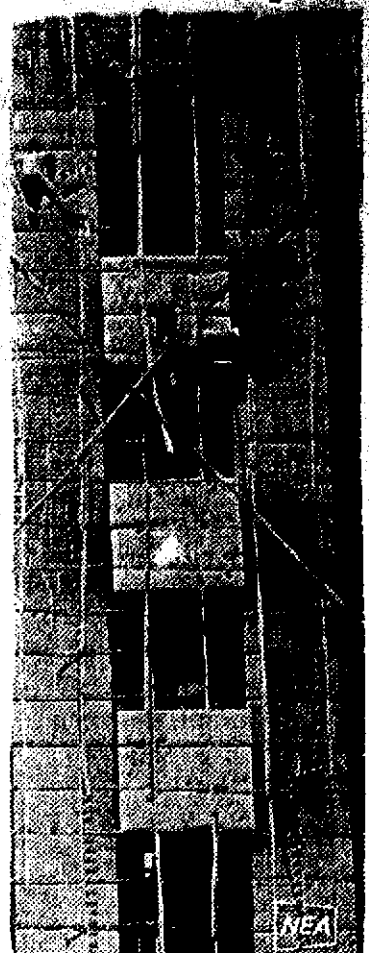

He said to a native, "Say, when I was here before all the women walked three paces, behind their men. Now they're ten steps in front. How come?" Answered the native, "Land mines!"—SLIM

Dear Slim: Thanks for a good story. But please tell me: What is a "College of Complexes"? We'll be waiting to hear.—H.

PERSONAL TO "STRANGELY ATTRACTED BUT DOUBTFUL" Remember what Bishop Sheen once said, "Marriage based on sex alone is like establishing a life-long association on a love of ping pong." If you can't talk to him, the "language of love" won't last much longer than the honeymoon.—H.

Condition Your Scalp

Whatever hair style you select, it should be in top condition to look best. At this time of year that means overcoming the harsh effects of sun, salt and chlorine, often obvious after months of summer fun. Conditioning treatments and scalp massage play a vital part in overcoming summer-shocked hair. To give yourself an effective scalp massage, simply spread the fingers of both hands and use them to move the scalp in tiny circles. It's important that the fingers stay firmly in place while the scalp moves.

Namath and Jets Clobber Baltimore

By Stratton L. Douthat
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Joe Namath had just led his New York Jets to a stunning 16-7 victory over the Baltimore Colts. He obviously was elated.

He also was thirsty, dirty, tired—and bitter.

"Are you one of those NFL writers?" he asked each reporter who approached him in the Jets dressing room. "Well, listen," he would say with a scowl, "NFL is here to stay and you'd better believe it. I guarantee."

Stripped to his football pants and socks, Namath slouched on a bench and the well wishers and writers strained to get near him. It was at least 100 degrees in the crowded Jets dressing room and he was soaked with perspiration, his long black mane hung down in damp ringlets.

"Nobody believed we would win," he kept saying. "Nobody but the New York fans gave us a chance. Where were you guys?"

At least 50 reporters were ringed around him scribbling down every word. "Hey, somebody get me another Pepsi," he yelled. As if by magic, a full cup was pressed into his hands and four others were set down beside him.

"Hey brother, watch it," he said to a photographer whose foot was dangerously close to the soft drink supply.

"I want everybody to take notice," he said. "There's no champagne in the dressing room of the new world champions."

After about 20 minutes of questions and congratulations, a little man wearing a Super Bowl straw hat pushed through and tapped Joe on the arm, almost timidly.

"Hey, Dad," he yelled "where'd you get that hat?" Then they hugged each other.

"What are you shaking about?" John Namath asked his famous son.

"I'm a little weak right now Dad," was the reply.

Joe's mother was not at the game. "She never comes," he said. "Her nerves won't stand it, she swells up like a balloon."

After an hour, Joe made his way to the training table and began cutting away the tape on his feet and knees. The purple scars on his knees stood out in contrast against the white flesh.

They were the only signs of wear on the 25-year-old former Alabama star who made football history when he signed a $400,000 contract with the Jets four years ago.

"Do you feel sorry for Morrell?" he was asked.

"Better him than me," replied Joe. "Do you think anyone would be crying for me now if the Colts had won? Hah!"

Joe turned and tossed a wad of tape at a Jets trainer. It missed by a foot. "Excuse me," he said, "I overheard."

"He's the cock of the walk now," whispered one writer.

"Yes," said another, "he's on top. There's nobody like him."

Joe was angered when somebody asked him if the Super Bowl had been his greatest game.

"You must be one of them NFL writers," he speered. "Just because we beat an NFL team doesn't mean it was our best game."

"I was confident we would win... we all were," he said. "Confidence is one thing and Hoover confidence is something else. If we didn't have confidence we shouldn't have been here."

Joe's outspoken victory predictions made headlines before the game and many writers forecast he would pay for his re-

Kentucky Posts Long Win Streak

By TED SMITH
Associated Press Sports Editor
In the viewpoint of the University of Kentucky, the race to be the first team to win 1,000 college basketball games is long since over. Kansas and Oregon State are only also-rans.

Kentucky, ranked No. 7, by its own count has 1,004 all time victories thanks to beating Florida 88-67 Saturday night. The National Collegiate Athletic Association, however, says Kentucky has won only 999 games but could make it 1,000 by taking Georgia Monday night.

Kansas, No. 5 upset by Missouri 47-46 by a goal scored by Theo Franks with seven seconds to go, has won 997, officially. The Jayhawks go to Iowa State Monday night to try to make it 998.

Oregon State is virtually out of contention with 993. The Beavers were put down by mighty No. 1 UCLA led by Lew Alcindor, 83-64.

The discrepancy between the NCAA's figures on Kentucky's overall total of victories and Kentucky's own reckoning comes about this way. Adolph Rupp took his team to Israel for a post-season university tournament in 1966 at the behest of the NCAA. There the Wildcats won five games. The NCAA won't count these because they were post-season, Rupp demands that they should because he was playing by NCAA request against college teams.

The other three games in the eight that separate the views of the NCAA and Kentucky were played in the early 1960's. Kentucky had the names of the opponents but not the scores, so the NCAA has never recognized them. Then Russell Rice of the Kentucky public relations staff dug out the scores from old newspaper files and now Kentucky has applied for NCAA recognition.

As a sort of compromise between the 1,004 games claimed by Kentucky, and the 996 recognized by the NCAA, Kentucky brought out a cake Saturday night with 1,000 candles on it after Dan Issel had led Kentucky's rout of Florida by scoring 20 points.

UCLA's victory over Oregon States was its 11th of the season and 27th in a row. Lew Alcindor scored 29 points and dominated the game.

Kansas was the only victim among the nation's Top Ten although St. John's of New York was idle.

No. 2 North Carolina easily disposed of Virginia State 83-63, third ranked Santa Clara boosted its season's record to 15-0 by crushing the University of the Pacific 67-56, and Illinois, No. 4, beat No. 12 Northwestern 82-77.

Davidson, No. 5, took it easy in running away from West Virginia 102-71, and Villanova, No. 9, won over St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania 87-62 with Howard Porter, a sophomore, making 36 points and snaring 26 rebounds. The tenth ranked team, New Mexico State, pushed its season's record to 14-0 by running over Santa Fe 117-67.

Although aside from Kansas' loss, form prevailed in the Top Ten there were some disturbances in the next ten places.

Detroit, which held the 13th spot, was nosed out by Dayton 64-62. Cincinnati No. 19, beat Louisville, the No. 14 team, 87-75, and Drake, No. 18, lost to Tulsa, 86-78.

The rest of the list followed form. LaSalle, No. 11, beat Syracuse 83-63; Duquesne, No. 15, downed Creighton 66-59; Ohio State, holding the 16th spot, whipped Wisconsin 84-69; Notre Dame, No. 17, edged ahead of DePaul 66-60; and No. 20 Marquette beat Xavier 82-69.

yelling in 12 games only last week, need to rest their voices before the grind starts up again next week. For the true basketball fan who wants to really see some good teams in action, the Joe T. Robinson Girls Invitational Tournament starts today in Barton Coliseum at Little Rock.

From this area, teams are represented from Lewisville, Stamps, Ashdown, Bradley and Stephens. Bradley and Ashdown are seeded first and second in that order, with Plumerville right behind. With an eight-man squad, Plumerville gave Bradley a scare in the OBU Tourney before losing by about ten points back in December. Ashdown wants it bad, though, and they have to remember losing to Bradley last year in the finals.

Washington Lions Beat Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports writer
Unable to hold the pace in the second half, the Hope Bobcats lost their second 4-AA Western Division game last Saturday night, as the Texarkana Washington Lions shot their way to an 83-66 decision over the Cats in Jones Field House.

Finishing a long week including three games and two more "B" contests, the Bobcats fell to 4-9 for the season and 0-2 in conference. Washington, meanwhile, stands at 1-1 after a 73-34 loss to mighty Fairview.

This week brings mid-term exams to HHS students, and the Bobcats get a break from 4-AA competition with a single home game against DeQueen on Friday night. The "B" Lizards and girls teams host Emmet Jones Field House beginning at 6 p.m. tomorrow night.

The Washington game, like the 61-48 loss to Camden Lincoln the night before, started as stand-off. Hope started the game with a full-court press on defense, but this proved to be ineffective as it eventually gave the Lions an advantage in rebounds.

Relying almost totally on free throws, the Bobcats fought out to a 19-19 score when the quarter ended. Then, again like the Lincoln game, Hope pulled out to a "decent" lead—early in the second period, only to see it fall away by halftime.

Guard Ricky Putman hit 5 of 6 charity shots as the Cats pulled ahead 28-21 with 5:14 to play in the half. That was the turning point, for it marked the time when Washington's Ricky Collins gained some confidence in his 20 to 25 foot jumpers.

Collins pegged two long ones in a row to reduce the margin to three points, and immediately the turnover plague hit the Bobcats. In the last four minutes of the second segment Hope totaled seven of those fatal turnovers, while the visitors only recorded one.

Putman, who had 11 points by the half-way mark, hit two late field goals to keep the count even, but Collins' 14th point gave Texarkana Washington a 37-36 lead at intermission.

Defensively, those final two periods were disastrous for Hope, but the Lions contributed to that with well-timed set plays against the locals' man-to-man lineup.

Still, it was quite a battle for five minutes as Washington connected on 60 per cent of their shots on outside baskets by Collins and Wendell Latimore. The Bobcats hung in on sporadic scoring, mostly on free shots.

Leading 52-48 with 2:11 left in the quarter, the visitors collected four quick turnovers from the Cats and turned them into eight points for a 60-48 lead at the buzzer.

In a wild shooting final stanza, the Bobcats never could pull closer than 10 points from the Lions, who continually hit two buckets for every one Hope netted. Collins wound up 32 points, as the 6-1 junior never lost his composure shooting from amazing distances.

Out of it all, Hope gets an easy week to let the sick get well and injured healthy. Even the faithful cheerleaders, after

Two goals by Bobby Hull helped put the Chicago Black Hawks back into third place in the Eastern Division as the Black Hawks outskated the Los Angeles Kings 4-2 at Chicago Stadium. Toronto, idle Sunday, moved Chicago out of third briefly Saturday with a 4-2 victory over Los Angeles, while the glib Hawks were losing 6-1 at St. Louis.

Detroit, whose four-game winning streak gives signs they would like to move out of the Eastern Division cellar, arrived within a point of New York by beating Oakland 5-1 in Detroit. The Red Wings defeated New York 3-2 in Detroit Saturday.

Also in Saturday's games, Philadelphia advanced into third place of the Western Division by beating Minnesota 4-2 and Oakland defeated Pittsburgh 4-2 on Penguin ice.

Veteran playmaker Phil Esposito helped set up five goals for the Bruins who shook off a sluggish start and moved out of a 3-2 second-period tie. Esposito assisted on two goals each by Ken Hodge and Ron Murphy and one by Johnny McKenzie. Johnny Bucyk, Ted Green and Fred Stanfield were the other Boston scorers.

Minnesota, Oakland Secure Leads

By The Associated Press
Weekend action in the American Basketball Association saw Minnesota and Oakland make more secure their leads in the Eastern and Western divisions respectively.

The Minnesota Pipers took the measure of the Dallas Chaparrals 116-105 Sunday night. The Pipers trailed 48-47 at halftime, and then burst into a 40 point scoring spree in the third period to take the lead and keep it.

Connie Hawkins with 29 points and Steve Vacendak with 27 paced the Pipers, but honors for the game went to Rookie Guard Glen Combs of Dallas with 34 points.

In the only other ABA game Sunday night, the Denver Rockets got away to an early lead and made it stick defeating was high gun for Houston with 33 points, and Walt Plotkowski for Denver with 30 points.

In the National Basketball Association Sunday night Milwaukee defeated Boston 114-110. Detroit took Cincinnati 113-111, and New York stopped San Diego 105-102.

Oakland strengthened its hold on the ABA Western division Saturday night with a 108-105 victory over Denver. On the

North Wins Senior Bowl Contest

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Players on the North squad voted to give the game ball to their coach after their 27-16 victory over the South in the annual Senior Bowl game — something an all-star team seldom does.

Coach Alie Sherman of the New York Giants, who coached the Yankees to their victory Saturday, said, "I am touched by the gesture and consider this week one of the biggest thrills of my football life."

More than 42,000 fans watched Bob Campbell of Penn State repeatedly tear through the South's line. He was voted the outstanding back.

But it was Ken Juskowich of West Virginia who turned the tide for the North.

The South was leading 16-14 in the third period, but Juskowich's 37-yard field goal — longest ever in the Senior Bowl — put the North ahead.

Moments later, Ron Prichard of Arizona State recovered a South fumble two yards out and Campbell plunged over for the decisive touchdown.

Juskowich later kicked a 20-yard goal to clinch the victory.

Charlie Winner of the St. Louis Cardinals, who coached the South, said the South lost two fumbles which led to touchdowns that spelled the difference.

Each player on the winning team receives $1,000, while each losing player receives $750.

A-State Back Named Most Valuable

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas State linebacker Bill Bergey, named the most valuable player for the South in the North-South Shrine All-Star football game, has been named the December winner of the Charles T. Meyer Foundation award for excellence in athletics.

Robert Cornelius, Ouachita Baptist University basketball player, was runnerup to Bergey in the balloting by Arkansas sportswriters and sportscasters. Danny Davis, Henderson State College basketball player, was third and the Little Rock Central High School basketball team, as a unit, was fourth.

Baylor and Aggies Lead Conference

By MICHAELA LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

The mysterious phenomenon that annually scrambles the Southwest Conference basketball race is at it again with the defending champion flat of its back and two unbeaten trying to fend off virtually the rest of the league.

Texas A&M and Baylor—the co-leaders with 2-0 records—survived crucial tests last week. SMU has third place with a 2-1 record followed by Texas, Texas Tech and Arkansas with 1-1 marks.

Rice is winless in two games and TCU, last year's champion, has dropped three straight.

Just for added spice, the 1969 race appears to be specializing in close games. Six points was the widest margin of victory in any of last week's games.

Texas Tech whipped Rice 88-82 and SMU nipped Texas, 68-62 Saturday night. The Aggies got their two victories in similar nip-and-tuck fashion edging Tech 85-84 and Arkansas 73-68.

Baylor defeated SMU 69-67 and TCU 68-64.

A cold shooting spell that allowed Arkansas only two field goals in the final seven minutes, gave A&M the push it needed for victory. The Aggies' 6-foot-9 Ronnie Perret netted two hooks with five minutes to play to put A&M with 24 points and James Eldridge paced Arkansas with 20.

SMU took the lead early in the second half and never lost it but Texas repeatedly made challenges, pulling to a 60-59 deficit with four minutes to play.

Sophomore Clay Van Loosen led a late Tech rally for the Raiders' first conference victory. Rice threatened in the second half, with the lead changing hands eight times.

Van Loosen hit from the field with seven minutes to play to give Tech the lead for good.

Greg Williams of Rice holds a narrow lead over SMU sophomore Gene Phillips for the scoring lead with a 22.3 average. Phillips has a 22.2 average.

Aggies Come Behind to Beat Hogs

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Texas A&M came from behind Saturday to defeat Arkansas 73-68 in Southwest Conference basketball action at Fayetteville.

A&M limited the Razorbacks to two field goals in the final seven minutes to break Arkansas's seven-game winning streak. This left Arkansas 1-1 in conference play and 7-4 for the season.

Two hook shots by A&M's 6-foot-9 Jonnie Perret with about five minutes left gave the Aggies a 64-62 lead. They never trailed after that.

The victory lifted A&M to their fourth straight triumph and tied them for first place in conference action with Baylor at 2-0.

Sifford Is Winner at Los Angeles

By Bob MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Charlie Sifford is the winner of the 43rd annual $100,000 Los Angeles open golf Tournament, and officially, he won it Sunday in a one-hole sudden death playoff with Harold Henning of South Africa.

In a sense, however, 45-year-old Charlie, the first Negro to make it in professional golf, won the $20,000 in the final nine holes of the first round last Thursday.

His rounds for the 72 holes were 63-71-71-276 for the part 36-3-71 Rancho Park Golf course.

What Charlie did was shoot a fantastic 28 on the back nine Thursday, seven under par which he achieved in only six holes.

What Charlie did after that was tame par by only one stroke for the ensuing 63 holes, not counting the birdie putt in the extra hole playoff that sewed it up.

Par golf after that 28 eruption proved good enough to repulse the enemy.

Henning, a gracious loser, had rounds of 74-68-66-276, and said, "I'm happy to get a tie."

Henning won $11,000.

In the closing moments of the drama it was all Sifford and the 35-year-old Henning, whose lone American victory was in the Texas open in 1966.

Defending champion Billy Casper made a run with a 86. So did Australia's Bruce Devlin. They tied for third at 277. Each won $9,000.

U.S. Open champion Less Trevino had fun with the galleries. But his 74 gave him 293 and $133.33 in the new PGA format which guarantees every finisher at least something.

In Sifford's case, it seems he and the absent Julius Boros kid each other over which is the older. Boros actually is 48.

But it was Boros, Sifford revealed, who corrected Sifford's famous hook by readjusting his grip on the club. The advice came last year when Boros and Sifford played in an exhibition.

"We old men," said Charlie, "try to help each other."

Sifford have been playing golf for more than two decades. He was a caddy as a 10-year-old in Charlotte, N.C. His only other PGA tournament victory was in the Greater Hartford Open last summer.

Celtics Unable to Beat Fresh Milwaukee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, defending champions of the National Basketball Association, faltered before a fresh Milwaukee squad 24 hours after they pulled a hot one out of the fire in Philadelphia.

The Bucks, in firm possession of last place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association, beat Boston 114-110 Sunday night. The night before the Celtics had spurted in the final quarter to beat second place Philadelphia 111-101.

In other Sunday action, the Detroit Pistons beat the Cincinnati Royals 113-111 and New York beat San Diego, 105-102.

Minnesota beat Dallas 116-105 in American Basketball Association action Sunday, and Denver topped Houston, 124-117.

Milwaukee built a 57-56 advantage at intermission to an 11 point bulge in the final quarter in beating Boston.

Flynn Robinson's 26 points and Sanders' 23 sparked the Bucks' 14th win of the season.

Cincinnati and Detroit played a nip-and-tuck game down to the wire, and the score was tied 24 times before Detroit's Butch Komives and Eddie MILES ENGINEERED THE Pistons out of a 98-all deadlock and kept their team ahead. Miles scored eight of Detroit's last 12 points.

Willis Reed paced a trunancy beset Knicks team with 36 points, while teammates Dave De Busscher and Dick Barnett added 26 and 18 respectively in their victory over San Diego.

Cziste Russell missed the game because of military reserve duty. Walt Frazier had the flu and Phil Jackson was out with a back injury.

In the NBA Saturday Detroit beat Cincinnati 118-115, Boston topped Philadelphia, 111-101; Atlanta topped Los Angeles 104-100, and New York beat San Francisco, 85-77.

Foreign Jails Wait For Americans

By TOM TIEDE

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Planning a winter vacation in another country? Then a word to the wise from the Department of State:

Keep your nose clean.

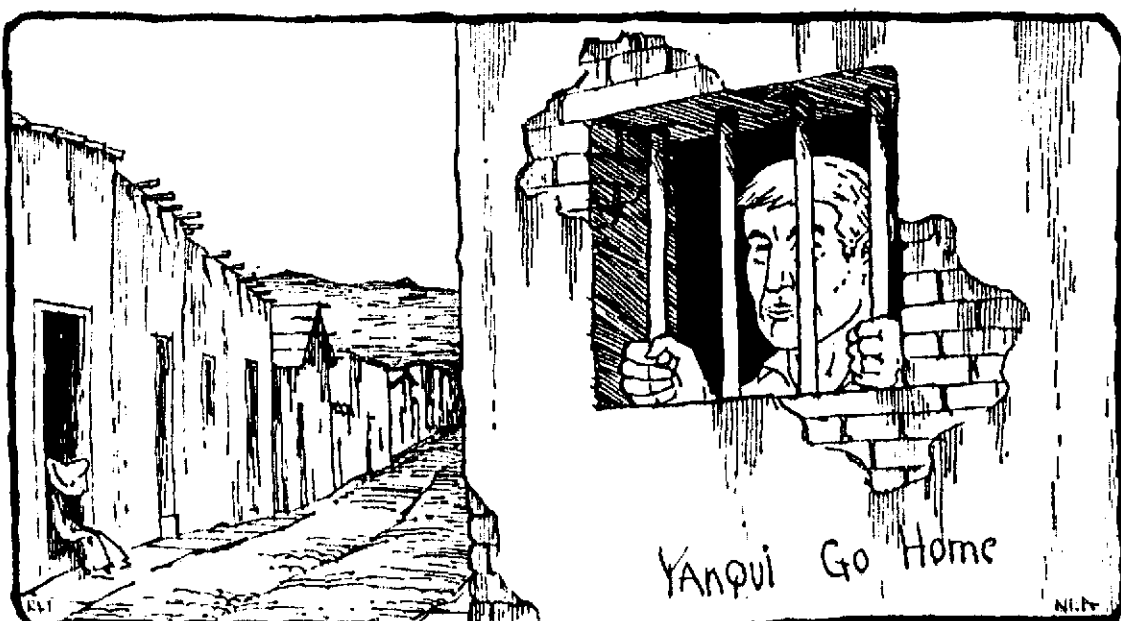

Every day U.S. travelers get into trouble somewhere in the world. Sometimes they commit murder; sometimes they pass a few bum checks; sometimes they just get whisky-eyed.

But whatever their offense, the result is often the same. They spend much of their trip stuck tight in the clink.

Nobody in the State Department will say exactly how many American citizens are jailed in foreign lands at present. They claim statistics vary too widely to merit continuing computation.

Rough guesses put the figure as high as 2,000 (at any given moment) depending on the season of the year.

Some of the prisoners who make up the total are Americans living abroad permanently or semipermanently. A few others are the shadowly individuals known as political detainees.

But the majority of those behind foreign bars are business or pleasure travelers. About 4.5 million Americans visit internationally each zanship. And even politically allied nations are known to be hard-nuckled when it comes to dealing with U.S. tourists. Mexico is the closest illustration. More U.S. citizens are detained there—as many as 500, according to Clark—than in any other nation of the world.

"Mexico is a big problem because it is so close," he says. "There are about a million border crossings between San Diego and Tijuana, not to mention other points. And generally speaking, the traveler who goes to Mexico is somewhat adventuresome. He goes for the excitement. Even the food is exotic. And, like I say, he forgets himself."

Forgetting oneself in Mexico, or anywhere else, can be more than adventuresome for travelers. It can be discomforting and frightening.

Clark points out that laws vary the world over. Bail in many places is unacceptable. Sentences are extremely stiff. And what may be only a misdemeanor in the United States is often a felony in other places.

Moreover, prison facilities in some nations are deplorable. Many countries look on convicts with a disdain that is evident in the food they serve them (little).

The State Department says it comforts imprisoned U.S. citizens as best it can through the various consulates. But it admits that legally all it can usually do is pat a man on the back and say: "There, there."

The law is the law, officials explain, wherever it is written. Although a man can publicly insult the government in the United States, he cannot do so in, say, Spain. If he can get away with street intoxication in New York City, he can't do the same in, say, Jamaica.

Tourists should remember this, say State Department observers, or they run the risk of returning from vacations this winter with red faces that never get that way from the holiday sun.

No, Gwendolyn, a political hack isn't an out-of-office politician who drives a cab.

Nothing could be more erroneous, Clark insists. To the contrary, being Yankee is a definite deficiency in some nations—usually those politically unfriendly to the United States. There are 22 American captives in Cuba alone who are being held chiefly because of their citizenship. And even politically allied nations are known to be hard-nuckled when it comes to dealing with U.S. tourists. Mexico is the closest illustration. More U.S. citizens are detained there—as many as 500, according to Clark—than in any other nation of the world.

THE WELL CHILD

Train Child Early In Good Eating Habits

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother writes that her daughter, 2, will not eat any kind of vegetable or fruit. This is a common problem and requires an abundance of calm patience on the part of the mother. It is essential that mealtime be a pleasant time for the child but not a time for her to play with her food.

Good eating habits should be developed early in life and to this end there should be no distractions at mealtime. Until a child is 3½ to 4, it is wise to feed her in her own room or in the kitchen without the rest of the family hanging about.

At each meal the mother should offer a small portion of vegetable or fruit but not insist that the child eat it or even try it. If the mother eats some of it herself and shows that she enjoys it, the child will in time want to follow her example. Not more than one new dish should be introduced at any one meal.

Doctors once recommended withholding a dessert or favorite food until a child cleaned up the other foods that were good for her, but this practice often has the disadvantage of increasing the child's dislike for the other foods. If the child gets hungry between meals she should be offered a piece of fruit. If there is some doubt whether the child is getting enough vitamins she should get a multivitamin pill before breakfast until better eating habits are established.

Another reader writes that the 3-year-old son of a friend practically lives on orange juice which he takes from a bottle. The pediatrician says the orange juice won't hurt him. By the age of 3, the mother should have trained this boy to use a cup. Since she hasn't, now is a good time to begin—simply by getting rid of all the bottles. The child may squawk at first but the mother must let him know, gently but firmly, that she is the boss.

Giving orange juice several times a day will naturally spoil this boy's appetite for other foods. So the mother should cut the juice to one small portion a day and quietly offer him other foods, which he will eat if he is hungry and will enjoy when he gets used to them.

Oswald: "We were talking about decisiveness last week and agreed that willingness to make decisions was an essential quality of a very great bridge player."

Jim: "What are you leading up to today?"

Oswald: "There is a supplementary quality—a very great player must make his decisions at the right time. It does not pay to decide one round late."

Jim: "I see what you mean. South's jump to four spades was decisive enough. Unfortunately it was a wrong decision. He should have decided to double two hearts himself whereupon North would have undoubtedly settled for a three-diamond call."

Oswald: "North's double of two hearts was unfortunate. He probably should have contented himself with a pass or bid three diamonds."

Jim: "No one could really criticize a pass. Any bid was dangerous and North really should have had better spades for his double."

Oswald: "On the other hand there was no reason for North to feel that his partner would suddenly leap to four spades with a four-card suit."

Jim: "Right! South might well have bid only three spades with a four-card suit or if he wanted to bid strongly, he could have bid three hearts and forced North to choose a suit."

Oswald: "If the three-heart bid had landed North and South in five diamonds North conceivably might have made it. It would require double dummy play plus poor defense but those things happen."

Jim: "In any event, it would be better than four

Death of a Salesman Who Gets Original? Six Palmer Men

The Saturday Evening Post, oldest and once the richest magazine in the world - back in 1929 it carried 28 percent of all the consumer-magazine advertising in America - will suspend publication with its issue of Feb. 8.

The Curtis Publishing Co. announcement this week-end was not unexpected for the Post had been losing millions a year ever since 1961. The primary cause of its death was the diversion of the lion's share of national advertising from the printed magazine page to the television screen.

Before that, however, the Post, essentially a text magazine, had been hurt by two developments strictly within the magazine field: (1) The appearance of Life and Look, specializing in pictures; and a switch in reading habits to the news commentary weeklies: Time, Newsweek, and U.S. News & World Report. But the Post was weathering this competition - until television came out of the laboratories and smashed its advertising revenues.

Don't presume for a minute that the passing of the Post is a doomsday pronouncement against all printed advertising. While the Post was dying American newspapers were booming - with 1968 their biggest year. Here's the reason behind this paradox:

Magazines depend entirely upon national advertising, of which little ever went to newspapers, whose main revenue is derived from local advertising. The fantastic cost of television "time" is beyond the budgets of most local advertisers, just as television itself, a national medium, is too inflexible to meet the demands of a thousand local communities - therefore the local daily papers have prospered while a great national magazine was dying.

Seven of us on The Star came home from the Arkansas Press Association mid-Winter convention at Hot Springs' Arlington Hotel Friday and Saturday still laughing over one of the best programs ever.

There was Al Capp, the great Dog Patch cartoonist who draws "Li'l Abner," and just as good a humorist as he is an artist. But the wise-crack we remembered best came from a resident of Arkansas, Gerald Fisher, director of the Arkansas Rehabilitation Center.

The convention's original program had been riddled with cancellations due to illness and, in one instance, because of a strike. Our speaker at Friday night's banquet was scheduled to be Irwin L. Frank, business news editor of the Associated Press, but because of the AP strike he couldn't leave New York City.

The convention appealed to Jim Barnhill, vice-president and general manager of Hot Springs Sentinel-Record and New Era, to find a replacement - and Barnhill came up with a 10-strike in Gerald Fisher.

Fisher told us the biggest curse of office-work today is the copying machine.

"We get copies in the morning, copies in the afternoon, copies at night - all the time we get copies. Tell me something: Who in h-gets the original?"

I can tell him. No one does. Because if they ever turned loose the original they couldn't make any more copies.

The convention paid a compliment to the late Clyde E. Palmer of Texarkana. From the platform it was pointed out that six men active in the meeting - four of them on the program - were or had been partners or managers in the Palmer newspaper group.

The six were: J.Q. Mahaffey, retired editor of Texarkana Gazette and News; Bob Chowning, general manager of Magnolia Banner-News; Roy Bosson, formerly of Hot Springs Sentinel-Record and New Era, now an executive with the U.S. Brewers Association, New York; and your editor - all on the program - the other two being Ray Kimball, formerly manager and co-owner at Magnolia, now with his own newspapers at DeQueen, Stuttgart, and Malvern; and Bill Whitehead, another former Magnolia manager, now co-owner of the Malvern Daily Record along with Kimball.

Little Hope for Peace Talks Start

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP)—North Vietnam, calling a new American initiative "unacceptable," left the United States today with little hope of getting the Vietnam peace conference started in the immediate future.

The United States Sunday offered two more proposals on speaking and seating arrangements for the conference, including what a U.S. spokesman called an "important concession." The North Vietnamese delegation quickly cold-shouldered both offers.

While the word "rejected" was not used and the North Vietnamese agreed to present the proposals to their ally, the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, a U.S. spokesman held out little hope of acceptance.

The "important concession" to which the spokesman referred involved speaking arrangements at the conference. The United States is willing to drop the idea of drawing lots for the order of speaking and permit the other side to arrange its speaking order in any way it chose, in the interest of getting the conference started.

This offer was coupled with another: That the delegations should gather around a table upon which the demarcation designating two sides would be narrowed to a simple line. This was intended to meet the North Vietnamese objection to a previous proposal for a green baize strip across a round table as "too conspicuous."

The argument over the shape of the table involves the quarrel whether there are two or four sides in the conference. The United States and South Vietnam insist there are two; the adversaries say there are four.

At stake is the status of the Liberation Front, which is claiming equality at the conference table with the South Vietnamese.

After a 15-minute recess to permit the North Vietnamese representatives to discuss the U.S. proposal, Ambassador Ha Van Lau returned and declared it unacceptable.

U.S. delegate Cyrus R. Vance then put forward an alternative proposal. This also was a package. Instead of meeting at a round table with a strip across it, it could be any shape table at all, with a line across it. The order of speaking once again could be by lots, with the winning side to speak first and the speaking order rotated thereafter.

Apparently Women Don't Like Idea of Working for a Woman

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Work for a woman? Never! That's the answer of American girls who were asked by The Associated Press if they agree with British women who responded to a nationwide psychological study by turning thumbs down on the idea of a woman boss.

"I wouldn't be caught dead working for a woman," said Diana Frankland, 30, a Boston brokerage secretary. "They're impossible as bosses."

"Women always seem to have a bone to pick," said another secretary—Joyce Forrester, 33, of Albuquerque. Mrs. Forrester said women are "just too bossy. Men are much more considerate."

The British survey was conducted by the National Institute of Industrial Psychology. The women were asked who they preferred working for and who they thought superior—men or women.

More than 95 per cent of the British women said men make

Secret of Successful Marriage - Just Close Your Eyes a Little

By MARYSCHURE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Close your eyes a little." That's the secret of a successful marriage according to one couple who ought to know—they've been wed for half a century.

It's also good advice for a number of young persons—including the daughter of comedian Bob Hope—who were married this weekend.

The experts were Mr. and Mrs. James J. Gibney of New York who were among 333 couples, all of whom married in 1919, at a mass celebration Sunday at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

After repeating the vows they first exchanged 50 years ago, the Gibneys, who have four children, 15 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, shared some of their marital philosophy.

"You can't have your own way. One has to give in," said Mrs. Gibney when asked what she has learned in 50 years.

"Keep out of her way while she's doing the housework," said Gibney in reply to the same question.

"That means," said Mrs. Gibney, "he doesn't help."

"And," said Gibney, "I have learned to get home for meals on time. She gets very mad if I'm late."

New York wasn't the only place for remembering past romance.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Vaughn of Bedford, Ind., observed their golden wedding anniversary Saturday by taking the elevator to the top of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument in downtown Indianapolis - the spot where they were married.

On Jan. 11, 1919, Vaughn, a World War I veteran, was still wearing his Marine uniform and the minister who married the young couple said there wasn't a better place for a man in uniform to wed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Graves Pate of Nashville, Tenn., marked their anniversary with a train trip. For their honeymoon 50 years ago, they went to New Orleans and San Diego by rail. This year, they did the same thing.

This was a weekend also for young love as several well-known persons were married.

Feld to Be Speaker Pro Tem

Rep. Hayes C. McClerkin of Texarkana, Speaker-elect of the 1969 session of the General Assembly, announced today that he will designate Rep. Talbot Field, Jr. of Hope as speaker pro tempore of the 1969 House of Representatives.

Rep. Field has served Hope and Hempstead county in the legislature at the 1941, 1947, 1953, 1955, 1957, 1959, 1961, 1963, 1965 and 1967 sessions and will be serving his 22nd year in the legislature. He is third in total seniority in the House.

Rep. McClerkin stated: "Rep. Field has served several terms on the Arkansas Legislative Council and during the past year was chosen as Chairman of the Legislative Council to fill the vacancy of Rep. Marion H. Crank who resigned to run for governor."

Rep. Field presided over the sessions of the Legislative Council in concluding the heaviest workload of research studies in the Council's history and in preparing budget recommendations for the 1969 legislative session. As Speaker Pro Tem, Rep. Field will preside over the various Committee-of-the-Whole sessions in the House at which budget matters will be considered, and his experience in presiding over the pre-session budget hearings of the Legislative Council will enable him to play a major role in the consideration of budget matters at the 1969 legislative session.

Rep. Field is a lifetime resident of Hope, and is a practicing attorney. He is married to the former Carlene Bruner and his daughter, Cathy, is a student at the University of Arkansas.

LBJ Begins Final Week in Office

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson starts his final week in office today with some prospect that he might leave to his successor a budget of around $195 billion to operate the government in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a nationally televised and broadcast appearance before a joint session of Congress Tuesday at 9 p.m. EST, Johnson will report on the state of the union as he views it after more than six years in office.

Although he can point to a record run of prosperity during his tenure, Johnson may feel impelled to warn against the rising wave of inflation that has pushed bank loan interest rates to a record high and is reflected in the soaring cost of living.

At home Johnson can point to his administration's programs to grapple with the problems of the breakdown of law and order, racial rioting, decaying cities, water and air pollution, and poverty.

In the international area, the President can cite the prospect that the beleaguered Paris talks eventually may lead to an end to the fighting in Vietnam. He can caution the nations that the explosive situation in the Middle East is a potential spark for a general war, but he must defer to the incoming president, Richard M. Nixon, any definitive answer to the Dec. 30 Soviet note proposing U.N. Security Council action to bring about peace.

Johnson is expected to review the nation's achievements in space exploration and to recommend full-scale continuance of that program.

But it is the budget message, which will follow his farewell report, that has been giving the President the most trouble during his final days in the White House.

Both the State of the Union address and the budget message were delayed by Johnson in the hope that he could coax Nixon into taking a public position on extending the 10 per cent income surtax, now scheduled to expire on June 30.

Five Persons Killed in Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five persons were killed over the weekend in Arkansas as the result of traffic accidents, an Associated Press count showed.

The count was from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday. No fatalities were reported Sunday but two persons were killed Saturday.

They were Gillie Adair, 65, of near Camden, and John Norman Van Meter 54, of Charleston. Adair was killed when the car in which he was riding ran off a county road north of Loets Bayou (Ouachita County) and overturned in a ditch, Adair apparently drowned.

Van Meter was killed when his pickup truck and a car collided on Arkansas 22 about 1 1/2 miles west of Charleston.

The other victims were Walter David Sharp, 22, of Tyrone, Marsha Moore, 18, of Black Rock and Nona Ruth Mize, 18, of Powhatan.

Warming Trend for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A warming trend should push temperatures in Arkansas into the 50s and 60s Tuesday.

The trend was to begin today as a result of southerly winds along the back side of a high pressure ridge covering the eastern section of the nation.

Temperatures tonight are expected to be in the upper 30s to mid 40s.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 21 at Fayetteville to 31 at Walnut Ridge. No rainfall was reported during the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m.

General Assembly to Meet at Noon, Tax Program Awaits Group

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas General Assembly convened at noon today to decide the fate of a massive tax program in which Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller provided something for almost everybody.

It became apparent last week to any who thought differently that the governor would have support for increased taxes from many pressure groups.

Three joint Senate - House committees met prior to the convening of the legislature for the first time in history and conducted a series of public hearings in which city and county officials and educational leaders urged the lawmakers to pass the tax package.

The governor's request is for $195 million in new revenue during the next biennium.

He has proposed that the money come from a one per cent increase in the sales tax, increases in personal and corporate income taxes, a five-cent per package increase in the cigarette tax, the first levy on cigars, chewing tobacco and snuff and a three per cent increase in levy on parimutuel betting.

Most of the opening day work will involve the operations of the House and Senate.

Rep. Hayes C. McClerkin of Texarkana will assume the speakership of the House, succeeding Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock.

Sen. Morrell Cathright of Elaine Bluff will succeed Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs as president pro-tempore of the Senate.

Tuesday's activities will center around the inauguration of Rockefeller for the second time. The governor will be sworn in at a joint session in the House chamber Tuesday morning.

Legislators will attend the governor's public swearing in and inaugural address at Robinson Auditorium Tuesday afternoon at 2.

It is generally agreed by observers that the legislature will pass some tax measures, but there is considerable doubt as to whether this will include the sales and income tax requests.

"This is pretty much an across the board increase," said an Alcoa spokesman.

15 Copters Destroyed by Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP)—The Viet Cong blasted their way into the biggest U.S. airfield in the Mekong Delta early today and blew up 15 helicopters worth an estimated $5 million before they were repelled by base defenders.

Another six helicopters were reported damaged in a mortar barrage at the headquarters of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division 40 miles away. One officer called the attacks an "oozing beginning" of the long-awaited enemy offensive in the 14,250-square mile delta south of Saigon.

The Viet Cong attack on Can Tho, 80 miles south of the capital, was the first major ground probe against an allied airfield in several weeks. It hit the headquarters of the U.S. Army's 164th Aviation Group, the nerve center for military operations in the Mekong Delta in the region's biggest city.

Enemy sappers broke through the airfield's defenses under cover of a heavy mortar, rocket and machine-gun barrage that pinned down the Americans while the Viet Cong attached explosives to the helicopters. A barracks area west of the airfield was attacked simultaneously.

Field reports said five cargo and troop-carrying Chinooks and 10 smaller helicopter gunships were destroyed or damaged. U.S. casualties were eight killed and 10 wounded.

The U.S. Command said: "The enemy soldiers were quickly repelled by airfield security personnel, supported by U.S. Army helicopter gunships and a U.S. Air Force Dragon ship," a fixed-wing aircraft equipped with rapid-firing Gatling guns. A spokesman said the American retaliatory fire killed four Viet Cong.

Forty miles north of Can Tho, Viet Cong gunners slammed about 10 mortar rounds into the 9th Division headquarters at Dong Tam. Field reports said there were no casualties but six helicopters were damaged, including the command chopper of Maj. Gen. Julian Ewell, the division commander.

Ten helicopters were damaged at Dong Tam in a similar shelling three days ago.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported three overnight shelling against two district towns and a provincial capital north and northwest of Saigon. A spokesman said two civilians and one policeman were killed and 19 persons were wounded, including 12 civilians, four soldiers and three policemen.

In other ground fighting near the Cambodian border, South Vietnamese rangers claimed killing 35 enemy soldiers 57 miles northwest of Saigon. Two rangers were killed and 22 wounded, including two American advisers.

Fires Are Set Deliberately at Camden

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Camden Fire Chief J. D. Mahan said today that 10 fires were deliberately set during the weekend in the Camden area.

Mahan said the fires caused little damage. He said eight were grassfires and the other two were in wooded areas.

The city of Camden is offering a $250 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who are responsible for the fires.

Mahan said 14 fires were set in the area last month.

Will Submit Election Law Revision Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell said Sunday that a bill will be introduced in the Arkansas House that would revamp Arkansas' election laws.

Purcell, in explaining the bill, said that state Rep. Ray Smith Jr. of Hot Springs would introduce the measure.

The bill would change the dates of primary elections, set a procedure for the selection of third members of county election commission, clarify procedures when a party nominee or elected official die before taking office, clarify absentee voting procedures, establish new procedures for election judges and clerks and further insure the secrecy of the ballot, and have counties pay half the cost of election officials in party primaries.

The bill was drafted by staff members of the Legislative Council and the attorney general's office under direction of Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas A. Glaze.

Charles D. Matthews, chairman of the state Democratic Committee, had introduced legislation when he was a state representative setting up the study that resulted in the bill.

Matthews, who was present with Purcell Sunday, said the provision that would require counties to bear half the expenses of party primaries was included because the high cost of elections had to be borne in many cases by candidates themselves in the form of high filing fees.

He said this particular provision might run into some trouble with the legislature, but said he foresaw no organized opposition to the bill from either Republicans or Democrats.

Purcell said he didn't know how soon the bill would be introduced in the House or if a companion bill would be introduced in the Senate.

Here are some provisions in the proposed bill:

— Election Dates: The general primary election would be held the second Tuesday in September with the first preferential primary held three weeks prior to that date. Candidates would be required to file on or before the third Tuesday in June. Presently, the general primary is on the second Tuesday in August and the first preferential primary two weeks before. Candidates now must file 90 days before the first election.

— Election Commission: The third member of each county election commission would be chosen by the state Election Commission from among five nominations submitted by the county committee of the majority party, that is the party of the presiding governor.

— Special elections: This provides for a special election should an elected official die before assuming office. It also provides for the selection of a party nominee by special primary, petition or convention should a nominee be unable to make the race after his nomination.

— Absentee voting: The bill prohibits absentee voting by machine. It would prohibit absentee voting by machine. It would prohibit absentee voting on the day of the election except by mail, whereas the present code permits absentee voting at the county clerk's office until 8:30 p.m. the day of the election. Absentee ballot applications would be open for inspection 60 days prior to any election under the proposed law. Present law doesn't permit public inspection until 20 days before the election. The counting of absentee ballots under the proposal could begin at 1 p.m. the day of the election instead of having to wait until the polls are closed. The bill also provides for the air mailing of absentee ballots to servicemen overseas.

— Election Officials: County election commissions would be required to appoint enough election judges and clerks so that no judge or clerk would be required to count more than 300 paper ballots or 200 absentee ballots after the polls close. Judges and clerks would be required to remain at work until all ballots are counted. Judges and clerks would have to be appointed not less than 20 days before any election instead of the present three-day deadline.

— Secrecy: In order to give the voter some form of assurance that the identical numbers of his ballot and ballot stub cannot be matched to reveal how he voted, the bill provides that the number on the ballot stub be covered by a black sticker that could not be removed except by court order in the event of an investigation.

Jets Grand Champs of Pro Football

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — The New York Jets are the grand champions of pro football, the American Football League has suddenly come of age, and Joe Namath is the greatest prophet in the sports world since Cassius Clay called the rounds in which his foes would fall.

Namath, the golden arm and the jawbreaker of the Jets, "guaranteed" that the AFL upstarts would win the world title, and he backed it up all the way Sunday when he led New York to a spectacular 16-7 upset of the Baltimore Colts, proud champions of the National Football League.

"Today we won," Broadway Joe exulted as the Colts walked in utter dejection off the battle-scarred Orange Bowl turf. "We'd win tomorrow or any other time. I told them."

In the thick gloom of the Colt dressing room, coach Don Shula said, "We've got to be men. It's just a shame for us to face the winter after all of the good things that happened to us before today."

"Namath is everything that we've heard good about him. He beat our blitz more than we did him."

In the two previous games of the World Series of pro football, the Green Bay Packers had clobbered the AFL entries, Kansas City and Oakland, and Baltimore was an 18-point favorite to keep the NFL mystique alive.

The game plan of the Colts was obvious. Their vaunted defense would take away the New York running game, opening the way for the big rush that would stop Namath. Then Earl Morrall's passes and the slashing runs of Tom Matte and Jerry Hill would carry Baltimore to the inevitable victory.

But Namath tore the whole plan apart. Right from the beginning, he established the Jet rushing attack by ramming Matt Snell down the throats of the Colts. And when Baltimore still tried the blitz, he beat it repeatedly as he bombed the Colts with 17 completions in 28 tries for 206 yards.

In fact, the Jets did to frustrated Baltimore just what the Colts had planned to do to them. Against a magnificent New York defense, Morrall and later the incomparable Johnny Unitas found all avenues to victory closed to them.

Morrall, the cinderella man who replaced the injured Unitas and won distinction as the NFL's Most Valuable Player when he guided the Colts to a 13-1 season, had been given added incentive by Namath's pregame crowing that Morrall was no better than at least five passers in the NFL.

But Morrall was unable to rise to the challenge. The scrambling Jets defenders allowed him only six completions in 17 throws for a measly 71 yards and came up with crucial interceptions that choked off every threat the Colts mustered in the three quarters Morrall was in the game.

"I don't think we did anything right," Shula said. "On defense we didn't play like we should, and our offense didn't come up with the big plays like it has all season."

Coach Weeb Ewbank, who won two NFL titles with the Colts and now has guided the Jets to the heights, said, "The Colts were great but we were greater. It was fabulous, Joe called another of his great games."

"This is the start of a new era in pro football."

Snell raced four yards for a Jet touchdown. Jim Turner kicked field goals of 32, 30 and nine yards, and New York held a commanding lead of 16-0 before the veteran Unitas came in for the final quarter and the Colts got on the scoreboard on a one-yard run by Jerry Hill.

Big heroes of the New York defense were Randy Beverly, whose two end zone interceptions prevented what looked like sure Baltimore touchdowns, Johnny Sample, who stole another at the Jet two, and Jim Hudson, who swiped one at the New York 12.

"We're the greatest team alive," Sample shouted. "We showed them," added defensive end Gerry Philbin. "We proved it. We knew that if we stopped them, Joe would take over."

Linebacker Larry Grantham said, "The odds were foolish. We were confident that Joe would get the points. Baltimore undersold our defense. It is so sweet."

George Sauer, who led the Jet receivers with eight catches for 133 yards, got off on the wrong foot at the start. After David Lee had punted dead to the New York three in the first period, Namath hit Sauer with a shot pass but he fumbled and Ron Porter recovered for Baltimore at the Jets' 12.

The sellout crowd of 75,377 thought this would be the start of a Colt landslide as Matte, rushing star of the Colts, rammed to the seven on the first play. But when Morrall aimed for Tom Mitchell in the end zone, the ball bounced off his left shoulder pad and was deflected to Beverly.

Then Namath took the Jets 80 yards in 12 plays, with Snell hitting for gains of seven and 13 yards, taking a 12-yard pass from Namath and running wide with a simple handoff for the touchdown.

On the last play of the half, Hudson broke off another Colt threat with an interception on a bizarre Baltimore play.

SILVER SPRING, Ark. (AP) — The search for a Silver Springs woman and her two sons, who have been missing since Dec. 23, ended Saturday when they were found dead in their car submerged in the Illinois River in northeast Oklahoma.

- 1960—Unsuccessful campaign against John F. Kennedy for presidency.
- 1962—Unsuccessful campaign against Edmund "Pat" Brown for governorship of California.
- 1964-66—Waged strenuous campaigns for GOP.
- 1968—Elected president.

HAPPY HUGGERS, Richard Nixon and wife Pat showed unrestrained glee when he was nominated in 1952 as the Republican vice-presidential candidate. The Eisenhower-Nixon team went on to win in '52 and again in '56.

CAMPAIGNERS CROSSED TRAILS in Chicago before taking off for different destinations. Kennedy and Nixon later met in famous 1960 debates at which the GOP hopeful fared badly. Debates are generally credited with giving JFK the edge.

AFTER DEFEAT in 1962 California gubernatorial race, Nixon was firmly saddled with "loser" image and considered by many to be in political oblivion. He left his native state to live in New York.

The Cautious Man

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

Richard Nixon as president will move with caution both at home and abroad, and he most likely will be at his best when he is confronting foreseeable situations whose elements he can in some part control.

His presidential campaign and indeed his whole public career reveal caution to be his hallmark. At root he is not a risk taker, accepting only those he must and then within a framework that acts to minimize what dangers he can.

Nixon now and then surprises his watchers with bursts of boldness. But there is some reason to believe he does these things mostly to confound his critics, to take the curse of predictability off his course of action.

It might be argued that a cautious man is hardly one suited to the demanding tasks of settling the Vietnam war and the baffling crisis of the cities. Nevertheless, with luck he may come through his four years with quite high marks.

Being a cautious type, he is unlikely to raise too high the expectations of troubled Americans of 1969. He comes to office less encumbered by specific promises than almost any president in recent memory.

He did pledge, in a general but not sweeping way, to do something about the war, about crime, about unrest. But his options are wide open. Almost any gains he makes will look big on the credit side.

The Nixon administration will not be primarily a "legislative" regime but one in which the president seeks to spur groups within society to move to solve problems at less than federal level in a spirit of mutual and self-help.

Nixon will be tested sorely in the foreign field. His indicated path is one of caution, short of a new isolationism. He wants all our commitments re-examined with a view to avoiding the mistakes of overreaching suggested by Vietnam. He wants a new look at the internal machinery designed to aid the president in making foreign policy decisions.

If fortune is with him, if the private sector responds well and he is able to steer his way cautiously through more dilemmas than any three administrations should have to face, he may be well placed for his bid for a second term in 1972.

But if the unexpected develops—war in the unforeseen quarter, recession, unbridled domestic strife—then there is no telling. No one can guess how effective and sure-handed the response will be from the man who has spent a lifetime trying to avoid crisis, suffering when he could not.

VICTORY AT LAST and President-elect Nixon strikes a victorious pose with wife Pat, daughters Tricia and Julie and Julie's then-fiance David Eisenhower. Julie and David were married Dec. 22.

WINNING SMILE is flashed by the new President, who achieved an unprecedented political miracle. To dispel "loser" image, Nixon fought the "battle of the primaries"—and won.

Harris Picked to Lead the Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selection of Fred Harris as Democratic National chairman—a prospect enhanced by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's weekend endorsement—would provide a broader national stage for an Oklahoma senator with star quality.

The folksy, good-looking Harris, who parts his dark hair down the middle, is a solid member of the Senate Establishment while maintaining firm ties among liberals. He already has stirred talk as a possible "sleeper" candidate for the 1972 presidential nomination.

Humphrey made official Saturday his suspected preference for Harris to succeed Lawrence F. O'Brien when the Democratic National Committee meets Tuesday. As titular head of the party, Humphrey's choice is almost certain to be accepted.

"I hope he will have your support," the vice president told the committee in a telegram.

"I appreciate the vice president's recommendation," said Harris in a statement. "I am grateful for the enthusiastic support of the national committee members and prominent Democrats from throughout the country."

While the 38-year-old senator, who worked his way from a farm boy to a Phi Beta Kappa key, indicated he had not made a final decision, one of his aides left little doubt that he would accept. "Chances are good that he is not going to say no if the committee wants him," the aide said.

Among other things, the chairman's job offers a chance to share credit with Humphrey for bringing about party reforms that the vice president says are needed to regain the White House.

Humphrey's telegram of endorsement followed separate meetings he held Thursday with Harris and former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina.

Sanford announced his withdrawal over the weekend and was replaced in dark horse speculation by New Jersey Gov. Richard Hughes.

After four years of doing his homework and earning membership in the Senate Club by not rocking the boat, Harris got some national stature last year when he was co-chairman of the Humphrey campaign along with Minnesota Sen. Walter Mondale.

His joining the Humphrey camp reportedly miffed the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to whom Harris had been close.

Harris, described by aides as "high strung" and who has been known to put away more than two packs of cigarettes a day, came to the Senate in 1964.

He whipped the well-known football coach, Bud Wilkinson, for the seat vacated by the death of Robert S. Kerr and won election to a full term in 1967.

A favorite game in Washington in the months after any general election is to speculate on winners or others who distinguish themselves in the campaign as possible presidential timber.

A dual role as senator and party spokesman combined with scrappiness and a good television style could put the name Harris right up there along with Kennedy, Muskie, Humphrey and McCarthy when the guessing begins in earnest.

New York Rep. Adam Clayton Powell made just such a point in a television interview Sunday when he called Harris a "sleeper" possibility for 1972.

"He's smart," said Powell. "He's young."

There's another point that makes Harris an attractive choice for the chairmanship.

Although O'Brien suggested a fulltime committee chairman might be best for the party, selection of a senator would help Democratic congressional leaders keep control of shaping opposition policy while the GOP holds the White House.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said last week he wants to keep the policy initiative in Congress and is opposed to revival of the liberal advisory group that sprung up during the Eisenhower years. That group was often at odds with the Democratic congressional leadership.

60 Injured, Police Seek Arsonist

DETROIT (AP)—Police searched today for an arsonist who witnesses said tossed gasoline on a stairway in a crowded Detroit dance hall Sunday because he was angry over being refused admission. Some 60 persons were injured.

"All I saw was a ball of flame go up the steps," said James Moore, 33, one of some 150 persons who were in the second floor "Soul Expressions" hall on the city's West Side. Fire, smoke and panic quickly spread through the crowd.

Police said they had a good description of the fire bomber, who was turned away from the dance hall at about 2 a.m. Sunday because he appeared to be drunk.

About 15 minutes later, police said, the man returned with four friends, tossed gasoline from a can into the entranceway to the second floor and then threw in a match.

Witnesses said the flames roared up the narrow enclosed stairway and a cloud of dense smoke engulfed the dancers.

"It was so smoky, you could only see if you stooped over, Sid William Murray, 21, who was in the crowd.

"About five people tried to kick out the front windows but finally somebody had to throw a chair through," he said.

One girl, he added, simply spread out her arms and jumped 20 feet to the sidewalk. A man with his whole body enveloped in flames rushed out onto the dance floor, where other dancers smothered the fire.

The injured suffered burns and other injuries, and eight persons were still in hospitals Sunday night, one in critical condition.

Red Scientist Talks of Life and Death

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Reanimation, the bringing back to life of someone who under present criteria might be presumed dead, has a big future in medicine, says a Soviet expert.

V. A. Negovsky, director of the Moscow Academy of Sciences' Reanimation Institute, said in an interview Sunday, "The struggle against death is an old aspiration among men, particularly the Russians."

The Soviet scientist, here to attend the World Congress on Death and Reanimation, said the study of reanimation has hurdled many obstacles. He added: "Reanimation will be the pre-eminent branch of medicine in the future."

Negovsky said that in the cases of sudden death, life is not completely lost until the brain stops functioning. "We know well that the arrest

Cut Your Own Taxes

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Publications

You must file a 1968 income tax return if you are under 65 and had at least $600 in gross taxable income last year.

If you were 65 or older by Jan. 1, 1969, you must file a return if gross taxable income for last year was $1,200 or more.

Three types of returns are available. The use of one is restricted by income limitations. The choice of either of the other two is dictated by your election to itemize your deductions, or to settle for an alternative method.

The three types are:

• 1040-A, the "quickie" punched-card type form which may be used if income was less than $10,000 and consisted solely of wages shown on W-2 slips with a total of not more than $200 in income from other wages, dividends and interest. You cannot use this form if you had any capital gains or losses, rental, royalty, pension income, or self-employment income.

If you use this form you get no opportunity to itemize your deductions and you lose certain benefits available only on a Form 1040, such as business expenses, sick pay and moving expenses, or a retirement income credit.

The form is ideal, however, for students whose total income for 1968 was less than $900; unmarried persons with a minimum of allowable deductions; young married couples who are not homeowners and who have no extraordinary medical, contributions or educational deductions; anyone (including a couple filing a joint return) whose total income is less than $10,000 and whose itemized deductions would not exceed 10 per cent of their income.

If your total income is less than $5,000 and you use this form you may either determine the tax yourself by using the automatic tax tables or you may have IRS do it for you. If total income is $5,000 or more, you must compute the tax yourself.

• Form 1040 with itemized deductions. This presents the greater opportunity for tax saving and will be the type upon which this series and the "Cut Your Own Taxes" book for 1969 concentrates its greatest attention.

• Form 1040 with these two options:

1. Instead of itemizing deductions claim instead 10

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Truth beats fiction every time, so maybe the New York Jets should be nominated for the best drama of the television year, and Joe Namath put up as an Emmy candidate for best performance in a single drama.

The 16-7 victory of the football team in Miami Sunday afternoon was, for millions of viewers, a show that made the latest exploit of "Mission: Impossible" seem anticlimactic.

NBC, handling the camera

work in the game between the Baltimore Colts and the Jets, turned in a solid, workmanlike job as did commentators Curt Gowdy, Kyle Rote and Al DeRogatis. But the stars were the players. From the first touchdown by the underdog Jets through the final push by the Colts, the Super-bowl was exciting television.

The weekend in TV terms, was almost routine except for the football game.

"The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," on CBS, started out on a low note — dismal Nixon jokes — but picked up steam when a number of the brothers' writing staff appeared to perform their own material.

There was a fresh quality about the young talent, if not all the material.

"Mission: Impossible," the real one, had one of its patent, neat, complicated plots. It combined the wildly improbable with electronic gimmicks and near disaster to provide a mildly amusing hour.

Ed Sullivan presented a clutch of acts from Las Vegas, entertaining enough, but the thing that occasioned more living room comment than even Don Rickles' insult monologue was the sight of our host with sideburns longer than those on some of his singing acts.

The program that annually pulls one of the largest audiences, "The Bob Hope Christmas Special," comes along

Thursday night. As usual the program, composed of bits and pieces from the holiday entertainment tour of Vietnam by Hope and Company, will run for 90 minutes— 8:30-10 EST— on NBC.

ABC will pre-empt all of its regular programs tonight for a series of special programs. They will start at 7:30 EST with another chapter from "Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau"—a story about a pair of young seals—then move on at 8:30 to a short documentary about adoption. After "To Love a Child," a special program at 9 will be built around the exploits of French ski champion, Jean-Claude Killy, followed at 10 by

Attempt to Hijack Delta Plane Foiled

MIAMI (AP)—An attempted hijacking of a Delta Airlines jet en route to Miami from Detroit was foiled early today when a stewardess disregarded a passenger's shotgun and slammed the cabin door in his face, police said.

The attempt came hours after the victims of two-week-end hijackings had returned from Cuba.
